I own an 03 Hustler z with a 23 hp kawasaki engine. It currently has about 1100 hrs on it and still runs great. My question is... When it comes time to rebuild the engine, is it possible to convert it to 25hp? I know that the displacement of the 23 and the 25 are the same...is it differences in the head assembly and carb that make more hp?

Guys, I'm a Hustler dealer in Michigan, and TRUST me, this is a Kawasaki Engine problem, not a Hustler problem. I have replaced all the o-rings in the carbs, and bypassed the fuel solenoid, and went as far as replacing carb for customer at my cost because Kawasaki claims no problem.

The 7000 is a very solid engine. It is the same build as the Confidant (Kohler's new Commercial Engine), without a few of the frills. While it will take a few years before we can answer the endurance aspect of this question, the performance aspect definitely goes to Kohler (Flatter HP and TQ curves; drastically less governor droop)

Hustler 52" mower w/ 232 hp Kawasaki. Losing power, especially when PTO for blades is pulled- runs very slow and sluggish- I have changed spark plugs, checked both coils, drained carb fuel (in case water in fuel), taken off carb and cleaned- all new intake gaskets, etc.. Sometimes when engine is running I hear a little sputtering.

I have a Hustler Super Z mower with a 25HP Kawasaki engine. Today the engine just started blowing oil everywhere. I shut it down before it blew up. It will still start but has a major oil leak. I took the engine cover off and the oil leak seems to be at the top of the engine just under the flywheel.
